To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of the World Anti-Doping Agency we would like to confirm that the doping control equipment produced by Berlinger & CO A.G. for the purpose of the collection of urine and blood samples in sport is currently being used by WADA subcontractors.

All sampling equipment used by WADA service providers must meet the highest standards to ensure security and integrity of the sample. To our knowledge the integrity of the Berlinger sample collection equipment has never been successfully challenged; therefore WADA is quite confident that such materials would meet International Standards.
